DESCRIPTION

- 7a. Architectural style: California Bungalow
- 7b. Briefly describe the present physical appearance of the site or structure and describe any major alterations from its original condition:

This beautiful example of a California bungalow has a double gable with a low pitch that is decorated with wood slats placed vertically in rows near the apexes of the gables. It has the standard exposed rafters and support brackets of a genuine craftsman and the elephantine columns on the veranda porch of the California style. The siding is wood shingle and there is an awning above the front window. The structure is single-storied with a basic rectangular floor plan. Landscaping is mature, very well cared for and a definite asset to the residence. This building also exhibits the distinctive wood pattern under the gables which is found in a number of similarly designed Gilroy houses.
