DESCRIPTION

- Architectural style: Bungalow
- Briefly describe the present physical appearance of the site or structure and describe any major alterations from its original condition:

A two story stucco house with all the characteristics of the California bungalow, it has exposed rafters, a little stickwork decoration and a double, low-hipped gable arrangement. The veranda porch is supported by elephantine columns and there is a trellis over the driveway, the standard trademark of all the houses along this street. The building is constructed on a rectangular plan and set amid mature landscaping. Fenestration is simple, rectangular shaped and consists of paired double-hung second story windows and large plate glass entry windows. The building also exhibits the gable screens that distinguish a number of craftsman and craftsman bungalow houses in the city.
