DESCRIPTION

- 7a. Architectural style: Bungalow
- 7b. Briefly describe the present physical appearance of the site or structure and describe any major alterations from its original condition:

A wide, low-gabled stucco California bungalow that typifies this section of Hanna Street, the exposed rafters on this house are decorated with a sawed end flair. The large veranda porch is supported by elephantine columns and extends around the front to cover part of both the north and south sides of the house. The trellis extending over the driveway is a standard bit of craftsmanship for this neighborhood. The building is single storied and constructed on a large rectangular plan with a detached rear garage. The most unique features are the extremely overscaled street facade veranda and, once again, the distinctive vertical board patterned gabled facing.
