DESCRIPTION
7a. Architectural style: Mediterranean Revival
7b. Briefly describe the present physical appearance of the site or structure and describe any major alterations from its original condition:

Two structures joined by a corridor connection. The residence to the south is a single story structure with pitched roof sheathed in red Spanish tile. A rounded pavilion projects at the southern corner. This has full height arched windows. A wide front porch is covered by an overhanging roof.
The Maternity Hospital is a single story structure that extends to the rear. The facade repeats the full height arched windows of the residence and has a wider arch on each side adjacent to the entry. The roof is composition shingles. Trimmed borwood hedges unify and connect the structures.

This handsome pair of structures reflect the best in Spanish Colonial Revival architecture.
